Loudoun County Cancels Jan. 7 COVID-19 Testing Event; Reschedules Jan. 7 COVID-19 Vaccine Appointments

Due to a forecast of inclement weather and out of an abundance of caution, Loudoun County is canceling the COVID-19 testing event scheduled for Friday, January 7, 2022, at Philip A. Bolen Memorial Park. The county is also rescheduling all January 7 appointments at the COVID-19 vaccination clinic at Dulles Town Center.

All individuals who had vaccination appointments on Friday will automatically have their appointments moved to a date next week and will have the option to reschedule themselves to any date that is convenient for them. Everyone with appointments has been contacted directly regarding the need to reschedule their appointments.

Loudoun County regrets any inconvenience the cancellations may cause. They are necessary because inclement weather adversely affects the county's ability to operate the testing and vaccination sites, which are heavily dependent on contractors and volunteers.

COVID-19 Testing Events Next Week

Loudoun County's next free, drive-thru COVID-19 testing events are scheduled for next week at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, January 11 and Friday, January 14, 2022, at Phillip A. Bolen Memorial Park. Testing event information will be posted at loudoun.gov/COVID19testing, along with links to registration forms.

COVID-19 Vaccination Appointments

Anyone seeking a COVID-19 vaccination appointment at the county's Dulles Town Center clinic may schedule appointments online by visiting loudoun.gov/covid19vaccine, or by calling the health department's information line at 703-737-8300. In addition, vaccine is widely available from other providers in the community; visit vaccines.gov to find a location near you.

Stay Informed

To be notified regarding changes in the COVID-19 testing schedule or the county's vaccination clinic, opt in to receive text message updates in English (text LCCOVID19 to 888777) or Spanish (text LCCOVIDESP to 888777), or check the Loudoun County Government Facebook page or @LoudounCoGovt on Twitter.

More information about COVID-19 is online at loudoun.gov/coronavirus.

# #