

April: Budget Updates

Lea el boletín en español aquí.

The Fiscal Year (FY) 2018 Budget discussion is coming to a close this month. My board colleagues and I on April 4th, will be taking a final vote on the budget and tax rate (currently expected to be $1.125 per $100 of real estate value per the straw-polls taken so far). Some of the highlights for this budget include providing funding to numerous non-profits to allow them to take several individuals off their waiting list for vocational training, community integration, and comprehensive, individualized disability employment. Another highlight was in the Capital Improvement Projects section of the budget. Funding for an overpass at the W&OD intersection on Sterling Boulevard was formally allocated for FY 2021, bringing us one step closer to seeing a permanent solution implemented at that location. I was also happy to support a vote in favor of accelerating funding for turf fields at Dominion High School to be built this summer.

In regards to the Loudoun County Public School's budget I was proud to support fully funding their request. The final straw-poll vote, however, left a $5.5 million gap from fully funding what was requested. Fully funding our schools is something I fundamentally believe in and will continue to advocate for and encourage my board colleagues to support. I appreciate the feedback and support I received from the community this year during budget discussions, and I am honored to be your Sterling District Supervisor.

New Sterling Library Opening & Town Hall on April 15!

Celebrate Sterling Library's new location opening on April 15 at 10 am! Please join us for the ribbon-cutting and ceremony at 22330 S Sterling Blvd, in the Sterling Plaza Shopping Center across from the Safeway and Joe's Pizzeria.

Our new branch will include modern space for programs and meetings, study rooms, expanded teen and children's spaces, expanded Spanish-language collection, and increased computer access. Even more exciting is that the new library will be the first to open until 9 pm on Fridays AND Saturdays as opposed to the regular 5 pm closing time.

The new branch will also feature a "maker space" with a recording studio, 3D printers, laser cutters, and sewing machines. "Our Makers in Loudoun Libraries initiative gives everyone the chance to use their creativity and explore their interests in technology," said Chang Liu, Director of Loudoun County Library Service.

Please note: The existing Sterling library branch is closed through April 14 due to the move.

Bring an Art Mural to the New Sterling Library

Support the Sterling community and the arts in Loudoun County, Virginia by donating to this cause! Award-winning "storyteller through ceramics" Joan Gardiner has been commissioned to create "Journeys to Sterling," a 10' x 10' art-tile project at the new Sterling Library to be completed by this summer. The project will represent the community through tiles inspired by photos of actual residents, and through colorful depictions of the travels many have made to arrive in Sterling.

Learn more about Joan's vision and/or donate here: <https://www.gofundme.com/sterlinglibrary>.

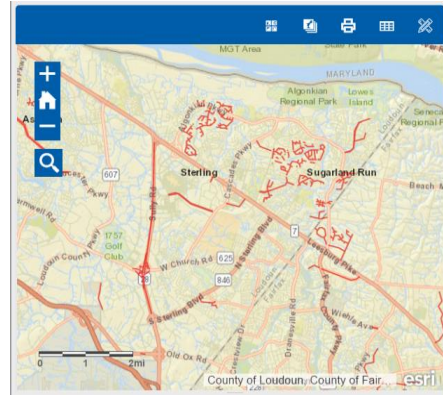

Four unique levels of giving incentives are being offered for this important project. Top-level donors will be acknowledged on the project itself. Donations are tax-deductible and may also be sent directly to Loudoun Arts Council, marked for "Sterling Library," at P.O. Box 4270, Leesburg, VA 20177.

Support Graduating Park View HS Seniors!

Help make Park View High School's Project Graduation a success this year! Project Graduation is an all-night, drug and alcohol-free celebration for graduating seniors and a 30-year tradition at the school. This year, the event is being held at Claude Moore Recreation Center on June 12, 2017.

The PVHS 2017 Class, is comprised of 351 seniors, 56% qualifying for free or reduced meals. Because of this, many families are not be able to afford their child's fee to participate in the event. The Project Graduation Committee is asking for your help in providing equal access to this event for all graduating students. Contributions of any size and type are appreciated: monetary donations, products, services, certificates and/or gift cards). Donor recognitions are posted on the Project Graduation page of the school's website for one year. Please email capnsflyers@yahoo.com for inquiries.

World War I Commemorative Events in Loudoun

In commemorating the 100th anniversary of America's entry into World War I, Clerk of the Circuit Court Gary M. Clemens invites the public to attend an exhibition honoring Loudoun's role in the "Great War."

The Loudoun County World War I Commemorative Committee will sponsor an observance of Loudoun's role in World War I with an event April 7, 2017, as part of Leesburg's First Friday celebration. "Over There: The Great War in Loudoun's Memory" will display Loudoun's contributions to the front lines and home front through court records pertaining to the draft and war service, letters, post cards, photographs, the history of the poppies to remember the war dead, and the wills of Governor Westmoreland Davis and General George C. Marshall. The event is scheduled for 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., in the 1894 courthouse at 18 E. Market Street in Leesburg.

For more information about Loudoun's role in World War I and the Loudoun World War I Commemorative Committee, visit www.loudoun.gov/WorldWarI.
